Yong-Jun Kim, a senior advisor at Kim & Chang, provides advisory services in various tax-related areas such as domestic taxes, international taxes including transfer pricing, tax audits and appeals.

Mr. Kim has accumulated rich experience and know-how in international taxation through long period of working career with concentration on MAP and APA related to various TP or sourcing issues arising from cross-border transactions. Based on such experience, he has advised clients to effectively resolve their international tax issues.

Since early 2000s, Mr. Kim effectively concluded significant MAP and APA cases for major foreign and domestic conglomerates. In addition, while working as tax attache at the Korean Embassy in Washington DC, he successfully resolved diverse tax issues confronted by Korean companies and expatriates in the US through close consultation with the Korean and US tax authorities.

In December 2018, Mr. Kim retired from the National Tax Service (the “NTS”) as Commissioner of Jungbu Regional Tax Office. Afterwards, Mr. Kim served as a senior advisor at Sunmyung Accounting Firm and a Visiting Professor at Graduate School of Business of Hongik University. He also served as an instructor at the National Tax Officials Training Institute of the NTS.
