About Jinki

My expertise and passion lies in Corporate Culture Innovation, Career Consulting and Global Learning & Development. Currently, as the Director of Business Development and Career Solutions at Jobplanet, I hope to guide and encourage individuals to find their passion and support them to get a solid start on a satisfying career, or help companies to solve their problems regarding culture, talent and overall HR.

Moreover, with the belief that promoting cultural innovation of Korean corporations would lead to not only their success, but also contribute to the happiness of employees, I am involved in developing & sales of HR related solutions, and lecturing and consulting corporations on topics regarding Career Development, Cross culture, Global Mindset, and Intercultural Communication. (I also share my insights and ideas through my blog www.jinkieun.com)
