

Eun-Mi Chae Managing Director of FedEx Korea

Eun-Mi Chae is Managing Director of FedEx Korea. She oversees all of the company's operations in Korea, a fast-growing market for express shipping and logistics service, and executes the overall strategies.

Chae has more than 25 years of experience in working in express shipping and airlines. Prior to joining FedEx, she worked for Korean Air and Flying Tigers, where at the age of 28 she became the youngest division manager in Korea's airline industry.

In 1991, Chae joined FedEx Korea, initially serving as the company's Customer Service Manager and in 2000 she was promoted to her first senior management role overseeing the company's ground operations. Her career took another leap in 2004 when she was appointed Managing Director of Human Resources for FedEx North Asia Pacific. And in 2006 Chae became the first Korean female to hold a Country Managing Director position among all multinational express companies in Korea.

Chae also has extensive experience serving as Vice-chair and HR Committee Co-chair at American Chamber in Korea, and as Logistic Committee Vice-chair at Korea Chamber of Commerce and Industry

Born in Seoul, South Korea, Chae graduated from Ewha Women's University with Bachelor's and Master's degrees in French Education. She also received her MBA from Aalto University in Helsinki in Finland in 1999.

###